Umeed Update

(women)

- Field coordinator attended Rationing Kruti Samiti monthly meetings regularly. Core issues discussed in it were minimum quantity of essential groceries, liquor making from grains, zonal evaluations and food grains disbursal to each home.
- Held a meeting with the women to make them understand the rules and regulations of Boarding Homes where their children are placed. Especially reasoning why only mothers are allowed to visit the children and how negligence on their part could affect the children's lives.
- Most of the women have Bank Accounts in "Apni Bachat" and "Bank of Maharashtra". To further orient them with the importance of ATM cards and children's accounts, we called Mr. A. Kinage and Mr. M. Joshi, Managers of Bank of Maharashtra, S. P. Road branch. They also talked about the banking problems our women could face and their solutions. 42 women attended the meeting.
- The first batch of 25 women were distributed the Life Insurance Policy "Janashree Bima Yojana". Some more women have registered for the second batch of Policy applications.
- Organized women's meeting for distribution of Pan - Cards and children's birth certificates
- Held a meeting with the women to make them understand how to deal with Stigma and Discrimination.
- We started banana distribution to HIV+ women.
- Celebrated Dandiya with our women, who were all very happy dancing.
- One of our beneficiaries misplaced her child (who is deaf and dumb), with the help of other NGO we found that child at Orissa. The child is back in the mother's care.
- Celebrated Bakri Eid with all the women; we played lots of games and also fed them all Biryani.
- AAWC participated in the Dosti Anand Mela organized by Prerna. All the women rushed to our stall to play games because the game we organized was very simple and interesting.
- AAWC has been regularly attending Rationing Kruti Samiti monthly meetings, which is actively working for Right to Food. The main issues discussed in it were the rules and regulation of Ration card, minimum quantity of essential groceries, planning of two days training workshop, planning of the Mahila Andolan at Nagpur related to ration.
- AAWC had painful experienced of 2 murders in the red light area of our beneficiaries. Laxmi by stabbing and Seeta by smoldering – both were murdered by their live in partners for obscure reasons.
- It's beyond our belief when we see Sofiya Shaikh sitting and chatting with her daughter in boarding on phone in front of us. It's so because AAWC staff saved her life by hospitalizing her timely into Seweree TB hospital as Doctors have almost given up hope for her survival.
- AAWC outreach workers while returning from their field visit in the evening found a very sick semi conscious prostitute woman lying on pavements. She was having Maggots all over her body. Our field workers asked for support to lift her up from other NGOs working in our area and local Police on duty in taking her to hospital. They both directly refused to help with all vague reasons. Finally with the help of 103 Ambulance and 2 women in prostitution our field workers admitted that woman into JJ hospital. There were tears in the eyes of that woman when our field workers were cleaning and changing her clothes before taking her to hospital. She expired same night at 10pm.

- AAWC has regularly attended Monthly meeting of Rationing Kruti Samiti. Discussion was held on Zone wise reporting and importance of attending meeting.
- On Makarsankranti AAWC organized haldi –kum - kum program for women with fun filled mental relaxation games for women.
- Meeting organized in collaboration with Bank of Maharashtra, S.P. Road branch to create value of 'Savings Account' and 'Recurring Deposit'.
- AAWC organized picnic on Jan 28, 2011 for women at Balaji and Ganpati Temple of Talegaon. Total 42 women with 7 staff enjoyed the day.
- AAWC observing "International Women day "on 25th March 2011 presented a play on " Child abuse"; highlighting the various ways through which men around in red light area tries to take the physical advantage of a young girls. Later on in interaction with women, lots of sensitive child issues were brought up for their better understanding as a mother to deal with. 26 women attended the program and were very responsive.
- We held a meeting at our Kamathipura centre with women to give orientation of AAWC activities in relation with better understanding of their Basic human rights. Also briefed about rules and regulations of Day care centre.

AAWC Update

- Ms. Manju Vyas (Director) was invited by an organization called CESA-Kitakyushyu to give a lecture on "Children's physical and mental health in Mumbai's red light areas". The response was overwhelming. Several people attended the lecture. She also got the opportunity to visit children in Kotakuji Nakai elementary schools, who recited mesmerizing songs and poems for her. She also visited Amakusa Elementary School where children made cards and lanterns for the children at AAWC. This visit was great for building awareness about the social problems we face in Mumbai.

She has long-lasting memories of the amazing welcome she received by the children, concerned staff and other respective associated people of Japan. She is specifically thankful to Mrs. Yoshiko Haga for arranging her lecture and wonderful trip to Japan. She is also thankful to Mrs. Mikiko Okubo for providing a chance to visit Amakusa Elementary School.

- INNOVAID is an organization that helps various ngos to access their functioning and helps them achieve their maximum potential. All summer long we have worked with them to see how we can improve and expand AAWC's services.
- We organized a 3 day Annual staff picnic at Mahableshwar and Panchagani for total relaxation and a good break from challenging work
- Raksha - Bandhan was celebrated with lots of fun with Film Director Amol Gupte, who was the chief guest, our trustees, the teachers and all the beneficiaries of AAWC.
- The children also went on several outing during the summer, which included visits to the Nehru Planetarium, Bhau Daji Lad Museum and Mani Bhavan.
- One of the oldest buildings which houses several of our beneficiaries in Falkland Road partially collapsed due to heavy rains. Fortunately none of our beneficiaries was severely injured

- Our organization has gone through massive rebranding campaign as our organization was being confused with another NGO called Apne Aap Women's Worldwide, started by Ms. Ruchira Gupta. An article was published by the Harvard Crimson Review, which exposed the misuse of funds by Apne Aap Women's Worldwide. As the names of the two organizations are so similar there was a lot of confusion about whether we were the same organization. The Harvard Crimson Review article can be found at <http://www.thecrimson.com/article/2010/11/2/apne-aap-women-organization/>

AAWC posted a response to this article which is as follows:

“Apne Aap Women's COLLECTIVE was founded in 1998 to work with brothel based women in prostitution, marginalized young girls and children of Falkland Road – Kamathipura red light area of Mumbai.....Ms Ruchira Gupta was associated with us in the beginning but we parted very soon in 2002 due to various reasons. Later on Ms. Ruchira Gupta founded her own organization with similar name with last word changed as Apne Aap Women's Worldwide and continued using her organization name as “Apne Aap” which our organization was using. This caused and is still causing an immense confusion and misunderstandings in every aspect. So we hereby want to clarify that our organization Apne Aap Women's Collective doesn't have any connection / affiliation / association with Ms. Ruchira Gupta or Apne Aap Women's worldwide / International in any way.”

We took this opportunity to undertake a long overdue rebranding exercise that will make us a distinctive entity. Apne Aap Women's Collective will now be known as AAWC. The women's program will be called UMMEED, the girl's program which was earlier called as Sparrows now will be called UDAAN and the toddler's program will be called UMANG.

As part of the rebranding exercise we have come up with a new logo, website, brochure and a new email address. Our new website address is www.aawc.in and our new email id is aawc98@gmail.com

- AAWC has been recognized by CRY (Child Rights and You) as a project partner NGO and has granted AAWC funds to do a baseline survey at Kamathipura centre. AAWC is the first NGO working in the red light areas to be supported by CRY.
- We will also replicate our activities of Umeed, UDAAN and UMANG projects at this center.

Staff Training

- Field coordinator attended a workshop conducted by the Rationing Kruti Samiti in Nashik on Training of trainers for Rationing Schemes Implementation in Urban and Rural Maharashtra.
- 6 of our staff members attended a meeting and workshop organized by Mumbai District AIDS Control Society on “Introduction of STI's, HIV / AIDS” and related topics.
- Our staff attended a Convention on “Political Women Actors” jointly organized by Tata Institute of Social Sciences and Mahila Rajsatta Andolan.

ACHIEVEMENTS

- With great pride we would like to share with you an accomplishment of our 2 Udaan beneficiary girls...in May 2011 both are successfully finishing their 3 years course of Hotel Management Apprentice Programme from a reputed five star hotel. Later on they'll be absorbed in the job as an Assistant Chef in the same hotel. Among 14 students only 3 students have reached up to third and final year of this course.

The most rewarding and fulfilling News of AAWC history is created by one of this above mentioned Udaan beneficiary Ms. Vimla S. Patil Griffith Laboratories Private Limited, London, every year organizes an all India level chef competitions of apprentice / fresher staff of "Five star hotels" for "The Hans Bueshkens Award" of CUSTIM CULINARY. Ms. Vimla Patil represented her Hotel and participated in it and astoundingly won this award by winning the entire regional, zonal and national rounds. Now she is invited to Hong Kong to represent Asia in semi final round.

- The Kamathipura new centre got inaugurated on 4th March 2011 by Mrs. Czaee Shah. Mr. Suketu Shah, Ms. Emily Harrison from Innovaid, Ms. Sujata Haria, Mr. Dinesh Kakkoth from CRY and all our friends were present with us in our moment of joy
- One of our beneficiaries who recently scored distinction in Math in her 10th Board exams has been employed part time as a Math Teacher to the younger girls at AAWC.
- Like all past years, this year also all our Udaan beneficiaries passed their final exams with good grades. Two girls got first position in class

CHALLENGES

- Finding professionally trained staff to work consistently even on moderate salaries.
- School's staff approach is very insensitive towards these girls / children, thus results into frequent drop outs from school.
- A few sacked staff in retaliation becomes matter of severe concern. They mislead children / girls about organization.
- Staff is always at the perpetual risk of physically getting abused when being into the community.
